

Example Social Media Posts for Small Foster Pets!

Elizabeth Booth is with Kaleigh Leon-Young and 4 others at Northeast Animal Shelter.

Someone come adopt this guinea pig before I'm forced to put more costumes on her!

Northeast Animal Shelter
May 11 · 🌐

Guess what?! Carl is our first ever guinea pig up for adoption at NEAS! This handsome dude is cute as can be and enjoys being with his people. He loves to hang around in his little house and eat veggies all day long! If you are interested in our lovely Carl please email adoptions@neas.org with "Guinea Pig" in the subject line.

- Use costumes/backgrounds in photos for humorous posts
- Introduce your foster pet on your social media, letting people know that s/he is looking for a home through SHELTER NAME's foster program.
- Highlight the pets using people in the photo to showcase that they are pets, not just animals. Use puns and fun graphics!

Celia Jepsky is with Rosanne Jepsky and Elizabeth Booth.
★ Favorites · 18h · 🌐

My little bunbun LOVES a good carrot 🥕 😊 😊

Celia Jepsky is with Rosanne Jepsky and Elizabeth Booth.
★ Favorites · 3d · 🌐

Meet Knox! Camp Jepsky is branching out from fostering cats and dogs. Here is our first foster house bunny! Available for adoption at NEAS. Message me if you are interested in the sweetest little baby bunbun.

Love Comment Share

- Use a cute video of the pet doing an activity like eating, playing, grooming and add music!
- Introduce your foster pet and try to get people to message you for more information to establish a dialogue!

Example Bio's for small foster pets!

Below are some examples of past small animal adoption bios to help you get started creating one for your foster pet!

Meet Dean! Dean is a 1 year old male rabbit who came to us from a large surrender case. He's a little shy with pets but comes up to greet you when you walk in the room. When given time outside of his x-pen, he's very curious and loves to explore. Dean has spent the last few weeks in a foster home, which means we know all about the things he loves! Dean's favorite snacks are strawberries and kale, and this handsome boy gets along famously with his canine foster brother!

Like the best of the 80s, ZZ Top and Cheap Trick are here to rock your world! These bonded boys are full of energy and can't wait to show you their moves! Guinea pigs are gentle, social creatures who love human and guinea pig companionship alike! If you're looking for something to give all your lovin' too, look no further! Submit an inquiry for these boys today!

Snickers is a 1 year old, neutered, Mini Lop. Snickers likes to explore and is always eager to come out of his enclosure. He is an active rabbit and when he's not eating or investigating some new toy or space, he's likely chewing away on his bedding. In his explorations he's greeted some of our other bunnies at their enclosures and shown that he might like a rabbit friend in his new forever home.

Introducing Norman! This gentle soul is about 1-year old and is looking for a quiet home to hop into. Since he's on the reserved side, he's looking for an adopter who can be patient with him as he comes out of his shell. His favorite hobbies include munching on greens and napping in his bed. We'd anticipate that once Norman is comfortable, he'll love plenty of pets, so long as his feet remain on the ground. Norman also has a history of living with another rabbit and may do well with another companion down the road! He's still working on perfecting his litterbox habits, but he's getting better each day. If you're looking to learn more about Norman, please fill out an inquiry!

Handsome Flynn is a sweet boy estimated to be 4 months old. He enjoys snuggle time with his buddy Eugene and is learning to be more comfortable being held. Flynn will need frequent positive interactions with humans to learn that we're not scary. With time and reassurance he's likely to be a very sweet, entertaining, happy guinea pig!